34th Annual GORE-FARHA CRITICAL CARE NURSING SYMPOSIUM
April 14-15, 2016
DOUBLETREE BY HILTON HOTEL
WICHITA, KANSAS

Symposium Description
This two-day symposium is designed for critical care nurses, as well as other nurses and allied health professionals, desiring to enhance their critical care nursing knowledge base. An outstanding group of national and local speakers with critical care expertise comprise the faculty.

Objectives
- Identify and describe essential pre-operative assessment and appropriate, evidence-based, post-operative management and care for the orthopaedic patient in adult critical care.
- Describe current evidence behind sedation practices including prevention of delirium and identification and management strategies for the delirious patient.
- Explain current, evidence-based approaches for Acute Respiratory Failure, emphasizing mechanical ventilation and respiratory adjuncts.
- Review evidence behind national resuscitation interventions for in hospital and out of hospital survival of cardiac arrest for improved patient outcomes.
- Identify potential signs of medication diversion and understand the investigative process.
- Discuss current guideline recommendations for nutrition support in the critically ill patient.
- Describe the role of pre-hospital personnel, ED staff, and critical care nurses in assessment and post-injury management of patients with traumatic brain injury.
- Identify pharmacological effects of commonly used vasoactive and inotropic medication infusions.
- Discuss the evidence based practice related to prevention and treatment of alcohol withdrawal in the critically ill patient.
- Discuss early interventions and evidence based guidelines for managing the critically ill patient experiencing severe sepsis.
